

HOW TO ORGANISE A STREET PARTY

If you would like to organise a street party it's not too late but you'll need to organise quickly! This is a great way to bring friends, family and neighbours together to celebrate the Queen's Platinum Jubilee and make new friends.

The link below will take you step by step through the things you will need to do to get you started.

You could even combine your Jubilee Bake Sale with your party in support of this year's Summer of Hope campaign. How about including a best bake competition for adults and children! There are endless possibilities but the main one is to have some fun with your friends and neighbours celebrating the Queen's Jubilee.

Jubilee Picnic

Something easier to organise and perhaps a little less stressful is to organise a picnic with friends and family. This could be in your local park or in your garden with a G&T. Ask everyone to bring a dish whether homemade or from a shop. Just watch out for the weather!

Online Party

Perhaps the easiest to organise is an online lunch with friends and family. Ask people to make their favourite royal themed sandwich, perhaps coronation chicken, and have a good catch up! Perhaps you've got a friend or family member in Australia you've not spoken to for a while - invite them along too. Although our lunch might be their midnight snack!

However you decide to organise your party don't forget to download and print off your Jubilee bunting.

Coronation Chicken Recipe

- 500g of cooked chicken
- 6 Tbsp of mayonnaise
- 2 Tbsp of mild curry powder (or to taste)
- 2 Tbsp mango chutney
- 2 Tbsp of sultanas (or to taste)
- ½ Tsp cinnamon

Mix the mayonnaise, curry powder, mango chutney, cinnamon, and sultana together in a bowl and season with salt and pepper to taste. Add the cooked shredded chicken ensuring all the chicken is coated with the sauce.

Add a little bit of water to loosen the mixture slightly if needed, then make your coronation chicken sandwich. You could even cut the crusts off!
